F. Morgan, of Charleston, are leaving on Wednesday to participate in the program at the White Sulphur Springs. Thursday at noon a luncheon will be given at Elmhurst by Mrs. E. F. Morgan, honoring the governors and their wives and families. An automobile ride will be enjoyed after luncheon. Maxwellton, the drive being noted for its picturesque scenery. Later they will return to the Greenbrier Hotel for tea. Thursday evening Governor and Mrs. Morgan at the Greenbrier complimentary to all the governors and their wives. After dinner bridge will be enjoyed and later in the evening a concert will be given at the hotel. Friday the ladies will accompany the governors on an inspection tour in the Winding Gulf and at noon the party will be entertained at luncheon by the chamber of commerce at Beckley. In the evening George Ade of Indiana and Thomas Meighan, star in "Back Home, Broke" will be present.

Saturday at 1:30 the governors and their wives and other attendants will be entertained with a buffet luncheon at the "Meadow" given by Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Lewis. Many of the guests will leave on Saturday for the east where they will be the guests of honor at luncheons, teas, dinners and other entertainments which have been planned in Washington, D. C., and New York. During the entertainments given, the music furnished by the five-piece orchestra from the Rivoli Theater in New York City, directed by Dr. Hugo Rosenfield, will be of particular interest. There will also be several noted singers to perform during the three days. —Charleston Gazette.

Arrive Yesterday

Mrs. L. Earl McWhorter and little son, Robert Davis McWhorter, arrived here last evening from their home at Lewisburg and will remain here until after Christmas as the guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Fisher, at their home on Pierpont avenue. Mr. McWhorter will join them here for Christmas.

To Savannah

The Rev. and Mrs. Charles Baird Mitchell, who spent several weeks at St. Petersburg, Fla., left there last Saturday for Savannah, Ga., where the former will have charge of St. John's Episcopal Church one of the strongest and most influential churches of the South. The Reverend Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will remain in the South until May, when they will return to their home on the Country Club road.

Honoring Miss Geere

The members of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority entertained Saturday afternoon with a tea complimentary to Miss Rosalie Geere of New York City at their home on Kirk street. Morgantown Miss Geere is a member of the national council and is the editor of the Kappa "Key."

One hundred and fifty guests called during the afternoon. Miss Eleanor Miller, Miss Clara Lytle and Mrs. Wilbur Kay, were in the receiving line. Mrs. Robert Hennen presided at the tea urn in the dining room. The house was attractively arranged with evergreen and poinsettias, and red candles added to the beauty of the scene.

Last evening the girls in the active chapter entertained with an informal chocolate at their chapter house for Miss Geere. The members of the active chapter and the pledges spent an informal evening around the fire places with Miss Geere. —Morgantown Post.

Dinner This Evening

Splendid Attraction

Edmund Vance Cooke, poet and humorist, will be the attraction at the regular general meeting of the Women's Club to be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Masonic Temple. He will speak on the subject, "A Good Friend Drops In." Owing to the fact that Mr. Cooke is regarded as among the finest lecturers on the American platform today, the meeting will be an open one and non-club members, both men and women, will be privileged to attend by paying an admission of $1. Mr. Cooke will arrive here from Cleveland, Ohio, on Friday morning. Those who are familiar with Mr. Cooke's poems and witicism will be delighted to hear his address on Friday, as he will be among the notable personages to appear before the club since its organization.

Mr. Brown Speaks

M. L. Brown, cashier of the Fairmont State Bank, talked to the Quotarians at their weekly luncheon held at the Fairmont Hotel yesterday. Mr. Brown talked along the line of thrift and the necessity of saving and accumulating money and advised the girls to form a money saving habit. His talk was interesting and instructive.

The club voted to donate the sum of $10 to the Times Christmas fund and an order was drawn on the treasury for that amount. Miss Nellie Dougan made an announcement concerning the coming to this city on next Friday of Edmund Vance Cooke, poet and humorist, who will address the Women's Club at its regular meeting. Announcements were made concerning the Christmas party (Continued on page nine)

The Christmas Store

GIFTS YOU MAKE WILL PLEASE

It isn't so much what one gets at Christmas as the thought which prompts the giver that is appreciated. And surely nothing suggests so fine a spirit as some remembrance that you have made yourself—a luncheon set, an embroidered bed spread, an apron, cushion, bath robe, a dainty piece of lingerie or even a pretty handkerchief is big enough to carry a Christmas message.

What You Can't Do With Ribbon

—this season isn't enough to talk about. If you like to dabble in millinery, a perky bow of crisp moire ribbon will be the making of a smart hat. Girdles are another feature of fashionable costumes and are never more attractive than made with ribbon.

For negligee there is the wide fancy patterns, 50c to $1.50. Narrow tinsel edged ribbon 40c. Metallic ribbon 25c and 35c. Sash ribbon in plain and fancy patterns 50c. to $5.00. Holly ribbon 5c. 8c and 10c.

Handkerchief Linen

—comes in such pretty colors you will want to make several for Christmas Gifts. Select the colors you like best, hemstitch the squares neatly and add a bit of embroidery in the corner and you have a pretty hanky.

12-inch strip, enough for 3 handkerchiefs, 50c.
12-inch squares, 17c each.
By the yard, $1.50.
20 colors to select from.

Gift Sweaters

—can be made between now and Christmas. A good many women and girls can knit, others have not time, but every one loves a good looking sweater and would like nothing better for this Christmas than one of the new styles illustrated in our instruction books. A full line of the yarns and books that show you how to fashion the sweaters on display in the Art Department.
